Intervention Zone

The entire national territory

Description of the Project

The concept of SUXALI SA GOX was developed to address the challenges of illegal emigration, climate change and rural exodus, linked to underemployment and poverty. It is based on an innovative approach aimed at revitalizing the regions by mobilizing young people who want to create jobs through ambitious projects in agriculture and livestock farming.

This 5-year project, which will begin in 2025, includes several initiatives, such as sheep, cattle and pig breeding and fattening, corn silage production, as well as horticultural farms of different sizes. Its objectives are to facilitate access to land for entrepreneurs, to promote the financing of their projects with the support of the State, and to enroll young people in agropastoral farms while strengthening their skills in the livestock and agricultural professions, as well as those of entrepreneurs in entrepreneurship and financial education.
