

Construction of the delta access routes

Intervention Zone

Regions of Saint Louis, Department of Dagana

Description of the Project

The project to create access roads in the Senegal River Delta aims to build 164 km of roads to open up strategic agricultural areas covering approximately 49,000 hectares. These infrastructures will play a key role in improving access to agricultural production areas and facilitating the transport of goods and services, thereby strengthening the capacities of these regions.

The overall objective of the project is to contribute to achieving Senegal's food sovereignty by improving access conditions to areas of high agricultural production. This project also aims to reduce rural exodus and illegal emigration by creating an environment conducive to sustainable economic development. In addition, it aims to improve the socio-economic environment of the targeted areas by participating in the fight against poverty and underemployment, while stimulating the local economy.

- Complete opening up of the Senegal River delta, thus facilitating the movement of goods and services in a key region for agricultural production.
