

Project to strengthen the hydraulics of the Ngalem basin including the three backwaters and the Gandiolais canal

Intervention Zone	Regions of Saint Louis, Municipalities of Ndiebene Gandiol and Gandon.
Description of the Project	The project aims to secure water for approximately 10,000 hectares of land, while developing 2,000 hectares of new developments to support local producers. The main objective is to strengthen food sovereignty by increasing the developed areas in the department of Saint-Louis and improving the conditions for developing farms. In order to achieve its objectives, the project will focus on several strategic axes. This will include increasing and diversifying agro-pastoral production by optimizing the productive potential, whether sedentary or mobile. At the same time, it will work to improve food security, both at the regional and national levels. Another priority will be to promote private entrepreneurship by developing high value-added crops. Finally, this project aims to combat illegal immigration by creating jobs that will allow young people, women and immigrants to better integrate into the local economic fabric.

Expected impact	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Economic development of rural areas through the construction of hydro-agricultural infrastructure, development of agricultural and pastoral land, opening up of production, packaging, storage and processing areas
