

roje cts

Agriculture sector

Senegal's crop production is booming, with huge potential for arable land, irrigation and a favourable climate. Horticultural and cereal crops are expanding, with export opportunities to Africa, Europe, the United States and the Middle East. Favorable government policies, access to regional and international markets and the availability of quality raw materials represent great opportunities for local and international investors. Agribusiness also offers attractive investment opportunities with outlets in local, regional and international markets.

